Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-20 are allowable.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art of record fails to teach a decoding apparatus and method that includes inter alia the following steps: define a source model which defines probabilities for symbols associated with transitions between source states and a product model, the product model defining correspondence between x-ary symbols and first binary elements; receive channel properties which define probabilities of receiving second binary elements following transmission of first binary elements; and reconstituting a most probable flow of x-ary symbols from the computed probabilities.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Citation Of Relevant Prior Art

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure:

Satoh (US 6,128,412) teaches a statistical data compression/decompression method.

Murashita et al (US 5,650,783) teach a data coding/decoding device and method.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
